

Someday . . .

We all have wishes for ourselves, friends, family, and our communities. This poem follows a pattern and encourages exploration into your own wishes.

I suggest you follow the following pattern when writing this seven (7) line poem:

- Begin each line with the word Someday . . .
- Complete each line with a wish that you have.
- Line 1 write Someday
- In lines 2 and 3 write something about your everyday wishes.
- For lines 4 and 5 writes something about your future wishes.
- In line 6 write something about your wishes for the world.
- End with line 7 and write the word . . . Someday
